It just ain't right. On the very day when Clapper returns to the Colonial line-up after an injury received in the opening game at Fordham, Carey, another key-man in the football machine, is carried from the field, disabled so that he will be unable to play in the Penn State game.

But as a result of the late unpleasantness with William and Mary, it is obvious to everyone that there is no justification for the article printed by a local paper charging George Washington with being principally a night school college, lacking school spirit, and having just the kind of football team it deserves.

Whether or not over half the students in the University do not carry a full 15-hour schedule, certainly enough of them were present at the Central Stadium to disprove any lack of interest in the football team.

As for school spirit, we should like to call the attention to the freshmen, who, without suggestion from other classes, and without influence being brought to bear on them from any source, elected to buy and wear rosters' caps to the game. We remind them that they sat together in a compact section—equaling in size that of William and Mary, a typical rah rah college—and stayed there to the close of the game. Their cheers spoke for themselves.

Yes, school spirit seems to be quite dead at George Washington. To prove it, it is only necessary to point out that three cheerleaders were not enough to cover the large G. W. section, while William and Mary got along very nicely with one.

And as for George Washington having the kind of team it deserves, we doubt if even the writer of the article believes that. He may have used the phrase as a closing "clincher" paragraph, but if so, he showed poor taste and less wisdom.

There is something of the petty in a writer who takes it upon himself in the public press to denounce the student body of a college, with his opinion going to a hundred thousand people, when the students of that institution have no opportunity to present their side of the question.

And even a sports editor knows that any team has its bad years. For four years the Colonials have fought, and lost but seven games. This year they have fought and lost every game thus far. The law of averages accounts for an occasional slip-up—even one as bad as that of the aforementioned sports writer. This year has been, to date, a slip-up so far as victories are concerned.

Banking on that same law of averages, the Ironmen invaded the lair of the Nittany Lions Saturday at Penn State, and will seek to make the best showing possible. It would be a sort of poetic justice if the Colonials score for the first time this season in the coming game, for then, the public would know what students know now, that George Washington has a scrappy football team.

Everybody and all of his brothers, together with some sisters, is going to the game Saturday. The exodus starts Thursday, when Coach Crum takes the team to State College, and will last all day Friday, and Saturday morning up to six or seven o'clock. Over a hundred rosters have definite plans to trek over the mountains to the game, and more will secure passage some way by Friday.

Two hundred miles is a short way for G. W. fans to travel, even when the team is scoreless to date. Yes, school spirit is quite dead at George Washington.

Some of the big Colonial's scrappiness must have been imparted to the frosh in their battle with Devitt. Outweighed by at least thirty pounds a man, the young Ironmen gave an excellent account of themselves, twisting and spinning through a heavier team that walked through touchdowns as a steamroller going down the field.

Flowers of all kinds appeared on the campus last week, together with much blushing, kissing, congratulating, and perhaps even catting. Flowers are so much more romantic than ordinary pledge buttons that men are required to wear.

Psychology is all wrong, say the British debaters. They convinced an audience of the fact, but we won't believe their real worth until Prof. Moss agrees with them.

A freshman wins the women's tennis tournament. Is there nothing safe from these newcomers except DICK ROLLO.

G. W. GIRLS' TEAM LOSES DEBATE TO BRITISH INVADERS

Audience, Acting As Judges of Contest, Cast Huge Vote For English Women

PRES. MARVIN EXTENDS WELCOME TO VISITORS

Ruth Kernan, Helen Prentiss and Marjorie Mothershead Represent G.W. in Debate on Psychology

By James G. Wingo
On Halloween night, October 31, the British women debating team succeeded in convincing the American audience that packed the Corcoran Hall to capacity, of the presence of hobgoblins and bugbears in the world of modern psychology.

The local team, composed of Ruth T. Kernan, Helen L. Prentiss and Marjorie Mothershead, made a strong defense of modern psychology against the devastating onslaughts of the touring British debaters—Nancy Samuel, of Oxford; Leonora W. Lockhart, of Cambridge; and Marjorie M. Sharp, of London. The George Washington team maintained the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the popular reading of psychology is undermining morality."

The English method of deciding public debates was used. The audience cast 184 votes for the Britishers and 95 for the local team.

President Cloyd Heck Marvin, of George Washington University, presided over the debate. He welcomed the first foreign women debating team to tour the United States.

Male Quartette Entertains
The musical entertainment was furnished by the University male quartette, composed of Harcourt Sontag, James Ewin, Robert Harmon and Irving Cleveland. Their songs were enthusiastically received by the audience.

Bobbed and tastefully dressed, the British debaters stood before the American audience with an air of confidence that is worn only by experienced debaters. In fact, the British ladies brought with them to this country wonderful records of forensic achievements. They made use of the inherent British humor and won the plaudits of their hearers by telling now and then a good joke to demonstrate a certain point. The beautiful George Washington representatives smiled their way into the hearts of the audience, as they attempted to disillusion their opponents with biting ironies. Now and then they also told a good joke.

Britisher Thanks Hosts
Nancy Samuel, the first speaker for the affirmative thanked the American people for the courtesies extended to them before she began to argue for her side and to ridicule modern psychologists and their methods.

"There was a time when a religious man was a good man," she declared. "The old standards of morality have been destroyed by psychologists. Now a criminal cannot be blamed for his acts. The psychologists lay the responsibility on his environment and heredity for the crimes he has committed. The psychologists of today are determinists."

Ruth Kernan argued that the morals of today are as sound as they have been. In fact, according to her, morality is getting better.

Psychologists Defended
"Morality is not changing," she said, "but ideas are. What the modern psychologists are propounding may seem to undermine morality at times, but so were the ideas of Aristotle, Galileo, Copernicus and Columbus. We of today now believe that the contributions of those men to human knowledge have not undermined morality."

Leonora Lockhart made the charge that the United States has too many sceptics.

"In America scepticism is made popular," she declared "through the popular reading of psychology. Modern psychology undermines religion. It destroys the sense of responsibility. Thus it inevitably leads to immorality."

Prentiss Upholds Psychology
Helen Prentiss said that she could not see how the popular reading of psychology could be injurious to morality.

"If we understand psychology, as brought out in modern books and periodicals," she said, "we will improve our social relations greatly, for through this popular reading valuable ideas about various subjects are gathered. We encounter things that appeal to our individual natures."

Marjorie Sharp wittily ridiculed complexes, repressions and inhibitions.

"Since the Garden of Eden man has been looking for excuses for his misdeeds," she declared. "The popular reading of psychology has furnished him a lot of excuses."

Marjorie Mothershead tried to prove that the "good old days of

Freshmen Choose To Wear Caps Symbolic Of Class Till February

That freshmen shall wear "frosh hats" is the almost unanimous vote of the men of the class of 1932. The little blue caps with G. W. U. embroidered in white on the front are making their appearance on the campus this week.

By renewing this old tradition, the first year students are trying to show their school spirit, according to William Dove Thompson, Associate Director of Physical Education, in whose freshmen gymnasium classes the resolution was passed.

The hats are to be worn on all school days in the hours from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the area bounded by 17th and 22nd streets, and Pennsylvania Avenue and F Street. The caps are to be burned during the mass meeting generally held on February 22.

WEDDELL PRIZE SUBJECTS NAMED

Twelve Subjects of International Interest Listed By Committee

ESSAYS DUE MAY FIRST

Research, Accuracy and Originality To Govern In Selection Of Successful Paper

Twelve Essay subjects for the Alexander Weddell prize of $250, offered annually by Mrs. Virginia Chase Weddell, have been announced by Acting Dean Charles E. Hill, chairman of the committee in charge.

The subjects are as follows:

1. The arbitration policy of the United States.
2. The International Program for Disarmament.
3. The Administration of the Mandates.
4. The problem internationally of double taxation.
5. International cooperation of a non-political character.
6. Preventive medicine as a factor in world peace.
7. The coordination of the various doctrines of the conflict of laws applied to private rights.
8. Nationalistic policies underlying restrictive immigration.
9. The history of the capitulations.
10. What has been the Permanent Court of International Justice accomplished?
11. What has been the attitude of the United States toward the treaty of Versailles?
12. What has the Council of the League of Nations accomplished as a mediator?

5,000 Words Necessary
The essays must be written by a student registered for a degree in the University, contain not less than 5,000 words and be submitted before May 1 with a table of contents, footnotes and bibliography. Students who intend to compete for the prize should report the fact to Dean Hill at once.

In judging the committee composed of Dean Hill, chairman, Oscar B. Hunter of the Medical School, and Charles S. Collier of the Law School will consider research, accuracy and originality, together with clearness of expression and literary form of the work. The committee reserves the right to withhold the award if no essay attaining the required degree of excellence is submitted.

DEADLINE ANNOUNCED FOR TROUBADOUR SHOW

Manuscripts for 1929 Production Must Be Turned In By December 15

December 15 has been set as the final date for the acceptance of plays, lyrics and music to be submitted for the Troubadours' production to be given at Wardman Park the last week in February. Anyone wishing to submit manuscripts for the production should give the same to Professor Robert W. Bolwell before that date.

A meeting was held on Saturday evening by the Executive Council of the Troubadours, at which plans were discussed for the production. It is reported by the Managing Director, James Fleck, that indications point to a very successful year, even eclipsing the successes of previous years.

The Troubadour Board of Directors as named last spring is as follows: Manager, Director, James Fleck; Musical Director, Bill Jemison; Dancing Director, Julia Denning; Stage Manager, Pern Henninger; Costumer, Margaret Hoover Parker; Property Manager, Marlon Campbell; Business Manager, Edward Moulton; Publicity Manager, Kenneth Years; and Electrician, Steve Blackman.

HONOR MEN BACK ATHLETIC COUNCIL BY RESOLUTIONS

Pyramid Passes Resolution Proposing Formation of Athletic Council

QUESTIONS OF ELIGIBILITY TO BE HANDLED BY BODY

Council to Consist of Captains and Managers of Men's Sports

The lack of a coherent expression of student opinion on athletic matters led to the passing of two resolutions proposing the formation of an Athletic Council with power to pass upon questions of eligibility and other matters by the Pyramid Honor Society at a meeting held in Corcoran Hall 17, Thursday, November 1, at eight o'clock.

The resolutions are as follows: "Resolved, that the Pyramid Honor Society pledges its support to the football team and takes this means of expressing its confidence in the team."

"Resolved, that the Pyramid Honor Society recommends the establishment of an Athletic Council, composed of the captains and managers of all recognized men's sports and such additional student members as may hereafter be decided upon. It is recommended that the Chairman of said Council be the student member of the University Committee on Athletics. It is further recommended that the said Athletic Council shall determine questions of eligibility for the award of letters, the relations between the various men's sports and such other matters as may properly come before such a council."

The Pyramid is a senior honor society limited to ten men annually who have maintained excellent scholarship and have distinguished themselves in the advancement of student activities throughout three years in the University. Election to Pyramid is one of the highest honors that can come to a man of the University.

FRESHMAN ELECTION RESULTS LISTED SOON

Eligibility of Voters To Be Checked In Registrar's Office

Freshman Election returns will be announced as soon as the Registrar's Office has checked the eligibility of the 175 voters.

Elections were held Thursday, November 1, in Room I of Corcoran Hall, from 12:45 to 2:00 and from 6:10 to 7:30. Immediately preceding the noon elections, a Freshman meeting was held under the auspices of the Sophomore Class.

Ted Chapin, President of the Sophomore Class of Columbian College, presided as master of ceremonies. He told how elections had previously been under faculty supervision, but that this year, for the first time, they were in the hands of the student body.

He then introduced the candidates for election, who each spoke to the class. In addition to the candidates announced in last week's Hatchet, Dolph Atherton and William Hanbeck ran for the office of Sergeant-at-Arms of the Freshman Class of Columbian College.

Frosh Party Topic At Women's A. A. Tonight

Attendance at Business Meeting Compulsory for All Members of Organization

Plans for the Freshman Party will be completed at the Women's Athletic Association meeting in the Gym tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Attendance at the meeting is compulsory for all members as important business will be discussed. The matter of club dues will be taken up.

This Association was organized last year for all women taking part in athletics in order that the participants in the various sports might become better acquainted and take a stronger interest in all the different types of athletic work.

"Y" BIRTHDAY FEATURED

A birthday cake in honor of the George Washington Association's seventh birthday will feature the Y. W. C. A. meeting at noon Thursday in Corcoran Hall 17.

Louise Dubose will tell of the founding of the "Y" seven years ago, and Mary Fox, membership secretary of the city "Y" will speak on the purposes and policies of the "Y" at present.

SOLICITORS WANTED

Students interested in obtaining advertising for The Colonial Wig on a ten per cent commission basis can see the General Business Manager in The Hatchet Office at noon today.

CAREY INJURED IN GAME AS BUFF AND BLUE TEAM IS DEFEATED BY INDIANS

Colonials Again Fail To Score As William and Mary Eleven Conquers Hatchetites By 24 to 0 Score On Saturday

ALLSHOUSE AMONG STARS AS HARD-FIGHTING COLONIAL ELEVEN LOSES ITS FIFTH GAME

Morrow Makes Long Gains But Team Lacks Punch to Put Ball Across Line to Score

Although exhibiting the same fight that has characterized their playing all season, the George Washington Colonials ran up against another stone wall in the form of the William and Mary Indians last Saturday and were again forced to take a licking to the tune of 24-0.

It was truly a tough game for the Crummen to lose, as their fighting qualities and general aggressiveness surely deserved a better result than the final score indicated. Luck was against them, however, and played a large part in the scoring of three of the Indians' touchdowns.

Coach Crum suffered another heavy loss that added to the total number of injuries that he has received already this season. "Jimmy" Carey, versatile star of the team, was slugged on a play in the final quarter and was injured to such an extent that he had to be carried from the field. It was the first time this year that Carey had even been "out" and was a strange experience to the brilliant player. Carey was rushed to the George Washington University Hospital, where on further investigation it was learned that he had suffered a slightly fractured bone as well as a severe strain to his back. It will be impossible for him to don a uniform for the next few days, but is expected that he will be back in time for the game with American University a week from Saturday.

Visitors Got "Breaks"
Taking nothing from the work of the visitors, it must be said, in all due justice to the home team, that the "breaks" accounted in a large part for the bulk of the day's scoring. Only one touchdown, the last, was made by straight football the others being the result of pure luck and accidents to the Buff and Blue which might have happened to any team.

"Red" Allshouse, end, again played his usually brilliant game for the Colonials, time and again breaking through the line to throw an opponent for a 4 or 5-yard loss and setting down well under the punts from his teammates. He was also instrumental in blocking a try for extra point after the second touchdown.

First Touchdown
For the entire first quarter, the two teams fought on practically an even basis. Early in the second period, however, Carey attempted to punt from his own 3-yard line and his effort was blocked by Bauserman of the visitors, Lankford recovering on the G. W. 2-yard line, and on two plays, Bauserman went over for the first score of the day.

The second marker was not made until the start of the third quarter. After an auspicious beginning, which looked as if the Colonials were on their way to tie the score, a "break" gave William and Mary their second score. Morrow had taken the kickoff at the start of the second half back to the visitors' 45-yard line. Then came three plays which carried the oval to the William and Mary 15-yard mark. On the next play, though, Carmichael, bulky captain of the Indians, intercepted a pass from Barrows on his own 20-yard line, and eluding every Colonial tackler, romped the remaining 80 yards for the second score.

Late in the quarter, another G. W. pass was intercepted by Paxson, who ran 29 yards to the home team's 19-yard line. From there, it was only a matter of five plays before the piskin was taken over the last chalk mark.

The last score of the afternoon was registered in the final period by straight football. Taking the ball on their own 15-yard line, the Indians rushed and passed their way to the Colonials' 8-yard line, from where Ryan took a pass from Bloxem to gallop to the fourth score.

Frequent Penalties
The game was not without roughness and frequent penalties marked the afternoon's performance. For unnecessary roughness and infraction of the rules, two of the Indian players were banished from the game, one of them being Captain Carmichael. The bulky leader was warned on several occasions and when he finally slugged at Van Meter in the fourth quarter, he was ordered to leave the field. Shortly before, Murphy, tackle for the visitors had been given the gate for a similar violation and his team penalized half the distance to the goal.

The play-by-play:
First Quarter
Barrow ran the kick-off back to the 25-yard line and after failing to

DEBATERS FAVOR AL SMITH'S VIEWS
Columbian Debating Society Favors Governor's Prohibition Stand After Hot Debate

CLEVER SPEECHES MADE
Dance Committee Sets December 15 as Tentative Date for Annual Fall Affair of Debaters

Governor Alfred E. Smith's views on prohibition were heartily endorsed by the Columbian Debating Society in its meeting on Friday evening, November 2. The endorsement was reached after a spirited discussion. The debaters gave the New York governor's stand a huge vote.

In the debate proper Lewis Demblitz and Solomon Alpher were the constructive speakers for the affirmative, upholding Al Smith's views in regard to prohibition. Harold Arps and Ralph Joyce took the negative side of the question.

The affirmative in its constructive argument contended that the present enforcement of prohibition was a failure and that the problem should be left to the various states to decide. The negative, on the other hand, maintained that the theory of State Rights is absolute and that it would only be logical to leave the question of prohibition in the hands of the national government since it has constantly been expanding its activities.

Clever Speeches Made
After the constructive debate clever speeches were made from the floor. Those who made short talks were John F. Jackson, Heart R. Duncan, James G. Wingo, George Simms, C. T. Shaner, J. Lyman, George E. Weigle, R. P. Johnson, G. Eisenberg, and Edmund Clubb.

The question of the evening was then put to a vote and the house went overwhelmingly on record as favoring Al Smith's policies in regard to prohibition.

Dance Plans Progressing
Plans for the traditional fall dance are progressing rapidly. The committee in charge, composed of James G. Wingo, Karl Frisbie, George E. Weigle, and George Simms, is making every effort to make the coming dance the best in the history of the society.

A tentative date, December 15, has been set for the dance. The subject for next week's debate is: "Resolved, That this house views with alarm the present indifference to the church in the United States."

Ernest L. Heckert and Bryant Z. McLeroy will argue for the negative, and Ralph Hargol and Richard F. Johnson for the affirmative.

G. W. STUDENTS' STORIES APPEARING IN MAGAZINES
Evelyn Crane's "Romance and Etiquette" Published in "Home Friends" for November
"Romance and Etiquette" is the title of a story written by Evelyn Crane, a student of George Washington University, which is appearing in the November issue of "Home Friends," a magazine published in Kansas City. Another story will appear in the February issue of the "Farmer's Wife."

Having been engaged in spare-time literary work for less than a year Miss Crane has won prizes in contests conducted by leading magazines and has had her work appear in a number of national publications.

She is a member of the Writer's League of Washington and is also affiliated with the Writercrafters Club.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES

The George Washington University undergraduate knows very well that his relationships and his contacts with his University present peculiar problems, problems which are unknown to the "typical" student of the "typical" college, and for the most part he does not care. He knows that he finds in his University the answer to his need, that he can find intellectual excitement and academic peace in the old brick buildings, that cleverness and gentility and laughter and companionship abide on the concrete campus, and he is content. But there is one accusation that is laid at his door that can hurt. That is the so-called absence of school spirit.

It hurts because the undergraduate does not know exactly what to do about it. He is not sure that he admits the value of the school spirit born of several quarts and the influence of several thousand yelling racoon coats, but he knows that he will not agree to the absence of any school spirit in his school. And after the demonstration made by the Freshmen at the game Saturday he knows that he does not have to.

The men of the Freshman Class voluntarily decided to wear Freshman caps. Wearing their caps, they went to the game in a body and proceeded to show the William and Mary rooters what conscientious and irrepressible cheering really was. They cheered their team throughout the game and they stayed to the end of the game. It was an exhibition of joyous and indomitable spirit, unalloyed by the baser elements that sometimes go into the rah-rah gestures, and a satisfactory answer to the gibes of certain embattled journalists who have commented upon the kind of a team that George Washington deserves.

KNOW THE AVERAGE MAN

With the ink still wet on his diploma, the college graduate goes into mercantile establishments, perches himself upon a counter and respectfully asks for a job as assistant manager, salary ten, fifteen or twenty thousand a year. Result: Another business man conceives a hearty dislike for the college product.

But considering the method of education, can the graduate be expected to do anything else? Should he be criticized harshly if he aspires to the top of the heap, and that immediately?

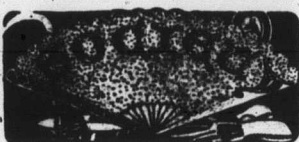

In the modern university a student is made aware of two things: The overwhelming number of successful people that have lived, and the discouraging shortness of life.

Naturally, then, if he is to make his mark, to leave behind him his name unforgotten, he has no time to waste in a dark, smelly shipping room. He must go immediately to the executive offices.

During the entire course of his college career he has hobbled with great and powerful men, becoming aware of their past existence through his textbooks, and there is desire in him other than to emulate them. And, we repeat, he must make haste to become great in finance, literature, transportation, or discovery.

To remedy this irritable state of affairs for our experienced elders, it would probably be advisable to teach a course about the Unknown Man, the little-recognized person who labors consistently and constructively for the material benefit of society, the reasons for his existence, and his reward.

In other words, a course to acquaint the college student with the average man.

AT LAST! The many new little pledges with their many new little ribbons are to be seen on and about the campus—the visible evidence that rushing is finally and conclusively over for this semester. With Hallowe'en safely out of the way and nothing much to be offered in the way of diversion until Thanksgiving, it is expected that the dear co-eds will purchase quantities of text-books, borrow reams of notes and endeavor to catch up on that work which has so long been subordinated to things of a more social nature.

Sigma Nu held its annual Memorial Service on Sunday, November 4, at Epiphany Church. This service is held by all chapters of the fraternity throughout the country on the Sunday before Armistice Day every year.

Phi Sigma Kappa gave a very successful dance at the chapter house on Hallowe'en night.

Another of the very good dances given on the same night was the annual S. P. E. Masked Ball. The old familiar bar was in the same place, many and varied were the costumes worn, and gaiety was the outstanding characteristic of the evening.

Kappa Alpha's dance given at the La Fayette Hotel on Friday, November 2, was considered one of the most enjoyable of the year. Guests from other fraternities on the campus and from William and Mary were present in addition to members of the chapter.

Tau Alpha Omega Fraternity held a formal dance at the Grace Dodge Garden House on Saturday, November 3.

A very delightful tea was given on Wednesday, October 31, in honor of the English Women's Debating Team. Hostesses at the tea were the members of the Women's Advisory Council, and the tea was given at the club of the American Association of University Women. Representatives from many of the activities on our campus were also among the guests.

Sigma Kappa gave a luncheon for their pledges on Friday in the rooms.

The second of the University Dances was given last Saturday night in Corebran Hall. Most of the school was present and feeling pretty happy even after the outcome of the William and Mary game in the afternoon.

Among the George Washington co-eds at Annapolis over the week end were Margaret and Sally Ferguson, Louise MacCall, Marion Kreutzer, Clouie Sentiere, Mary Butler, Dorothy Saunders, Elise Collins and Mary Harriman.

Margaret Rees, Katherine Slaughter, Martha Steele, and Nell Childs were among those who attended the Virginia-North Carolina game at Charlottesville last Saturday.

The pledges of Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity are holding a dance tonight in honor of the pledges of the other fraternities.

There will be an important meeting of Gate and Key, Honorary Society, tonight at the Phi Sigma Kappa House at 8 p. m.

Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity held a masquerade dance at its house on Hallowe'en. Many interesting and unique costumes were in evidence. A large number of representatives of other fraternities attended.

Acacia announces the formal initiation of Professor Arthur Frederick Johnson, Emory W. Clapper and Thomas W. Wagner on Sunday, November 4, at the chapter house.

Alpha Delta Theta held a formal banquet at the Grace Dodge Garden House on Saturday evening, October 27, the last closed date of the rushing season.

Phi Mu had the pleasure of entertaining their national secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Robert Iglehart, the week-end of October 27.

Kappa Delta received "five pounds" last week when Helen Bell announced her marriage on October fifth, to Mr. B. L. Page.

The pledges of Phi Mu were given a luncheon in the rooms November 2.

Alpha Delta Theta had a supper at the Brick Wall Inn, on Monday night, in honor of the new pledges. Several alumnae and members of the active chapter were also present.

Phi Sigma Kappa announces the pledging of John W. Perry of this city.

Acacia announces the formal pledging of John Hicks and Norman Conner.

The pledges of Kappa Delta were guests of the sorority at lunch on bid day at the chapter house.

Kappa Delta entertained the British Debating team at the chapter house on Wednesday night, after the debate. Additional guests were the members of the G. W. Women's Debating team, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon, as well as some of the K. D. mothers.

AGRICULTURE DEPT. ASKS REPORTS ON CHESTNUTS

The United States Department of Agriculture has appealed to the citizenry of America to aid in the preservation of the now almost extinct American chestnut tree through the locating and reporting of unusually resistant sprouts of the species which may be seen from time to time in various parts of the United States.

Some years ago the chestnut trees were virtually destroyed by an Asiatic blight which swept the nation from coast to coast and for many years the case looked hopeless from the standpoint of those interested in the saving of these noble trees, which are so tall, so beautiful and of such permanent and irreplaceable wood value.

In recent months it has come to the attention of the Department of Agriculture that after many years, some of the sprouts in some of the older sections of the infected regions are now reaching sufficient size to produce nuts. It is just an occasional sprout here and there that is able to reproduce but it is thought that these few will be sufficient to keep the species in existence for many years to come.

Persons who may on occasions come across any of these unusually resistant sprouts of the American chestnut tree, which are producing seed are urged to communicate the facts of the exact location of the sprouts and the name and address of the owner of the property to G. F. Gravatt, Senior Pathologist, Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Lights
that Fill the Skies with Commerce

THE air map of America is now in the making—on the ground.

Ten years ago, there were 218 miles of air mail routes with two station stops; to-day, a network of sky roads bridges the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Can you imagine this growth without electricity—without illuminated airports—without trunk lines studded with electric beacons?

Men of vision are building for increasing traffic of the air. Soon, the skies will be filled with commerce.

Just as electricity is helping to conquer the air, the land, and the sea to-day, so to-morrow it will lead to greater accomplishments in aviation and in every human activity.

A majority of the beacon lights used in airport and airway illumination have been designed and manufactured by the General Electric Company, whose specialists have the benefit of a generation's experience in the solution of lighting problems.

COLONIAL ELEVEN TO FACE NITTANY LIONS SATURDAY

Jim Carey, G. W. Star, To Be Unable To Fight For Buff and Blue

CRIPPLED CRUMMEN OPPOSING STRONG TEAM

Hatchettes Not Expected to Beat Penn State College But May Hold Down Score

With a squad of about 25 men, Coach Crum will leave Thursday night for State College, Pennsylvania, where on Saturday, November 10, his George Washington Colonials will tackle the strong Nittany Lions of Penn State College.

For the past two years, the Crummen have journeyed north to do battle with these haughty men of Coach Hugo Bezdek. Last year, the famous "Iron Men" of G Street gave the Pennsylvanians the scare of their lives. Fighting madly, the plucky Colonials succeeded in holding the Lions to a scoreless tie during the first half, but during the second part of the game they weakened a little and the State team put over two touchdowns to win by the score of 12-0.

Although they do not expect to do nearly so well as that this Saturday, nevertheless, the Buff and Blue will put up a good fight. For the first time this year, they will be playing without the services of Jim Carey, who has shown in most of the games to date. But last week, Carey will be unable to resume playing for a couple of weeks at least. His place will be taken by Clements, who subbed for him when he became injured. In all likelihood, Clapper will resume his place in the backfield, which will give the team its full strength among the ball-carriers once more.

Lions Have Played Big Teams

In facing the Lions, the Hatchettes will be opposing a team that has played some of the best eleven in the country to date. Only last week were the men of Bezdek beaten by Notre Dame by the meager score of 9-0. To date, they have played such teams as Bucknell, Syracuse, Gettysburg, and Lebanon Valley and have triumphed twice while engaging in one tie.

The only teams who have taken the measure of the Penn State eleven are Bucknell and Notre Dame. Bucknell winning the opening game of the season, 6-0. In their five games, the Lions have run up 43 points while holding their opponents to 15. Their biggest score came in their victory over Lebanon Valley whom they swamped to the tune of 25-0. If the Colonials can hold their Saturday opponents to a respectable score, they will have done all that could be expected of them.

Inasmuch, as it is "home-coming" day at the State College, it is expected that the Lions will do all in their power to make the occasion a perfect success for their followers. Therefore, with the scanty 12-0 victory of last year still in their minds, they will probably try to pile up as big a score as possible, to wipe out all memories of that scant win. For the Colonials to do even half as well against them as they last year is not even expected by the most ardent Colonial fan.

From last year's line-up which faced the Lions, no less than six men will be lost to the team either through graduation, ineligibility or injury. Sapp, Steeman, Hartzog, Walker, Sanders, and Carey, all of whom were in the big game last year will be missing from this year's line-up. And with two of this year's regulars, Carey and Sanders missing, it is easy to see why the Colonials can not be expected to repeat.

Sanders Brought Home

Sanders, by the way, was brought home from Easton, Pa., only last week, where he had been in a hospital ever since the Lafayette game on October 13. According to Dr. Borden, the University physician, his leg was re-set upon his arrival home and is now healing nicely. The little fellow is down-trodden about his inability to play, but aside from that is in the best of health.

Crum is taking his band of men Thursday night so that they may have plenty of time to accustom themselves to their surroundings. The team will arrive there Friday morning and take a light workout on the field Friday afternoon. It is also Crum's plan to have the men get a good night's rest in the dormitory which would not be possible in the berths of the train. He is doing all he can to have his men in the best of condition, and right now every man on the squad, with the exception of Carey, is in the best of shape.

Coach Crum was pleased with the fight that his men put up against William and Mary, and, although losing the game, admitted that the men had never fought harder this season.

HOCKEY SQUAD JOINS MADEIRA'S IN PRACTICE

Hockey players interested in making the varsity squad combined their practice Thursday with the girls from Miss Madeira's school.

In this way many weak spots were made evident. Attempts are now being made to remedy these and thus make a strong varsity.

The varsity schedule will start on November 17 when G. W. meets Swarthmore on the Ellipse. Games are also scheduled with Harrisonburg on November 23, and with American University on December 5. The date of the trip to William and Mary is still uncertain.

DETWILER WINS WOMEN'S TENNIS

Turnbull Gives Detwiler Heavy Opposition in Women's Final Tennis Match

MATCH SCORE: 6-4, 6-3

Detwiler, Former Women's Tennis Champion of Central is No. 1 on Varsity Squad

Mary Detwiler, George Washington freshman, won her way to the women's singles tennis championship of the University by winning over Jennie Turnbull with a score of 6-4, 6-3 on Monday, October 29.

The final match, which was played on the University courts, drew a large crowd of interested spectators as a result of the fine display of tennis playing. The game was refereed by Myrtle Crouch, manager of women's tennis, with the assistant managers, Mary Sprout, Billie McKelvy, Winnie Beall and Eleanor Kise as line-men.

Turnbull played with her usual perfect tennis form, placing her shots with accuracy and exhibiting a well-developed back hand. The majority of the points she lost were given into the net for the sake of good form. Turnbull is especially strong at net, but was forced back when Detwiler began chopping over her head.

Detwiler Consistent

Detwiler plays consistent tennis, utilizing a well-developed cut game, but otherwise shows no particular form. She gives every ball a wicked cut, which brings such disastrous results to her opponents. Fast on her feet, Detwiler misses only the most difficult placement shots, and her returns from any position on the court are splendid.

Detwiler won two love games from Turnbull, one on her own serve and one on her opponent's, while many games went to deuce. On the whole, the two players were well matched and both hard to beat. The games were even closer than the scores of 6-4 and 6-3 would indicate.

Turnbull made a good showing for herself on the George Washington tennis squad last year. She has played much tennis this summer and has improved her form to a beautiful game.

Detwiler, new to George Washington this semester, was women's champion at Central High School last year and has now eliminated upperclassmen to rank No. 1 on the varsity tennis team.

SORORITIES BEGIN BASKETBALL TOURNEY

Completed Schedule Arranged By Julia Denning, Manager of Tournament

Inter-sorority basketball swung into progress on Tuesday evening, November 6, when Phi Delta met Alpha Delta Theta and Sigma Kappa played Delta Zeta in the gymnasium, according to the schedule arranged by Julia Denning, manager of the tournament.

The various Greek letter groups are divided into two leagues. Members of League A are Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Phi Mu and Phi Delta. Sororities composing League B are Sigma Kappa, Delta Zeta, Gamma Beta Pi, Alpha Delta Theta and Pi Beta Phi.

Managers of each group are Phi Mu, Catherine Palmer; Phi Delta, Francesca Martin; Delta Zeta, Alethea Lawton; Alpha Delta Pi, Caroline Hobbs; Sigma Kappa, Penelope Graham; Pi Beta Phi, Jennie Turnbull; Gamma Beta Pi, Naomi Crumley; Kappa Delta, Helen Humphrey; Chi Omega, Julia Denning; and Alpha Delta Theta, Rosa Love.

The schedule is as follows: Tuesday, November 6, Phi Delta vs. Alpha Delta Pi at 7:30 and Sigma Kappa vs. Delta Zeta at 8:30; Thursday, November 8, Chi Omega vs. Phi Mu at 7:30 and Gamma Beta Pi vs. Pi Beta Phi at 8:30; Tuesday, November 13, Alpha Delta Theta vs. Delta Zeta at 7:30 and Phi Mu vs. Phi Delta at 8:30; Thursday, November 15, Gamma Beta Pi vs. Sigma Kappa at 7:30 and Kappa Delta vs. Alpha Delta Pi at 8:30.

The following games will be played off at time to be arranged, Phi Mu vs. Kappa Delta, and Pi Beta Phi vs. Alpha Delta Theta; Alpha Delta Pi vs. Chi Omega, and Delta Zeta vs. Gamma Beta Pi; Phi Mu vs. Kappa Delta, and Sigma Kappa vs. Pi Beta Phi; Kappa Delta vs. Chi Omega, and Gamma Beta Pi vs. Alpha Delta Theta; Alpha Delta Pi vs. Phi Mu, and Delta Zeta vs. Pi Beta Phi; Phi Delta vs. Chi Omega, and Sigma Kappa vs. Alpha Delta Theta.

G. W. FRESHMEN LOSE TO DEVITT ELEVEN BY 32-6

Colonials Make Long Gains Down Field But Lose Possession of Ball

DEFEATED FROSH SHOW GAMENESS AND PLUCK

Abramson, of Devitt, Run 75 Yards to Cross Last White Mark for Touchdown

The George Washington Freshmen eleven failed to withstand the onslaught of the Devitt Preparatory Team and were dealt a 32-6 defeat by the Prepmen.

Lack of cooperation and teamwork at critical moments were the chief causes of the Freshmen's defeat. Several times the Colonial Yearlings threatened to score, but on only one occasion were they able to cross their opponents' goal line. Once, after many long gains down the field, they were within the shadow of the enemy goal posts, but lost possession of the ball on downs.

Although losing by an overwhelming score, the final result is in no way indicative of the splendid fight put up by the Frosh. A general fighting spirit was maintained throughout the game and much credit should be given to the first-year men for their gameness and pluck.

The team was handicapped by lack of reserves and many injuries left it in a weakened condition. Notwithstanding the score, the team as a whole showed signs of developing into a strong eleven with many brilliant and capable players in its line-up.

Abramson, of Devitt, provided the feature of the game by a brilliant run for a touchdown. In registering the score, the Prep School star reeled off seventy-five yards to cross the last white mark. The quarterback also scored another touchdown. Resorting to the aerial route, the Prep School eleven were able to annex two more touchdowns. In each case, Ritter, half-back, passed to Culler, another back, for the score. Gilbaine, full-back was the other enemy player to register for the Prepmen.

George Washington's only tally came late in the game when a fumble gave the Frosh their only six-pointer. In the last quarter, Purdy fell on a Devitt fumble behind the enemy goal. At no other time were the Frosh able to cross their opponents' goal line.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield!"

It is considered the height of bad form, they say, to carry your own sandwiches to a tea—or to pack your own blanket for the week-end—but luckily, no such outlandish conventions surround the smoking of your own cigarette.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield," fortunately, is a phrase which not only remains "good cricket" in polite circles—but at the same time brands the smoker as a person of rare discernment and excellent discrimination.

And small wonder, considering all the remark implies. Good taste, top quality, the rare sparkle of tobacco goodness—all these combine to justify the choice of that man who thus shows his keen judgment.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield"—a neat line, that—the mark of a real connoisseur and the password of six million smokers.

ACACIA UPSETS KAPPA SIG. QUINTET IN FEATURE TILT

Tail-Enders Hand Leaders of League B First Defeat of Season

With two teams in each league still undefeated, the race for interfraternity honors in basketball remains open to all comers at the end of the second week of play. The leaders of the first week, with the exception of Kappa Sigma upset by Acacia, continued their pace and the championship apparently rests among T. U. O. and Delta Tau Delta of League A and S. A. E. and Phi Sigma Kappa of League B. Theta Delta Chi, however, is the only team that can be said to be definitely out of the struggle.

Handing the Kappa Sigs a 40 to 37 beating, the Acacia quintet provided the thrill of the week and in all probability the biggest upset of the season. After having been trampled on twice previously, the Acacia squad returned to hand the undefeated Kappa Sigs a bitter dose. S. A. E., present champions, added another victory over S. P. E. and remained in the fight with a chance to make it two straight.

Two games, one between Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Nu and another between S. A. E. and Kappa Alpha, which had been scheduled to be played Monday night, October 29, were postponed on account of the Columbian Women's Benefit at Poli's, and have been placed in the revised schedule printed in another part of this issue.

Girl's Hot Tip Steers Student to Favorite Pipe Tobacco

San Francisco, Cal.

Larus & Bro. Co.

Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

Since I first started to smoke, I have always smoked cigarettes.

One day SHE said to me "Ed, dear, why don't you smoke a pipe. I think those long straight-stemmed pipes are so manly-looking."

So, naturally, I had to buy a long-stemmed pipe and a can of well, we'll call it "Blubs Mixture tobacco." Immediately with a certain feeling of pride in my new pipe, I "lighted up" and proceeded to have my tongue bitten. I tried almost every brand I had ever heard of, but none satisfied me.

Sadly, I had to confess to HER that as a pipe smoker I was a good dietitian.

"Did you try Edgeworth?" she asked. "That is what dad smoked, and he's always smoked a pipe."

So I was forced to try Edgeworth, and all that I can say is that if every fellow that has tried to accustom himself to a pipe, started with Edgeworth, there would be very few that would go back to cigarettes.

Yours sincerely,

New George Washington "Pig Yell" Noted For Its High Penetrating Qualities

"Who—re, Who—re, Who—re, G—W—U, G—W—U, G—W—U, Hea—re, Hea—re, Hea—re."

When Bill Thomson came back from southern Maryland last summer, he brought several "pig calls" with him, and it is a variation of one of these that appears above.

Since hearing the call rendered (and it must be heard to be appreciated) many of the G. W. fans who are heading north to Penn State on Friday are intending to use this yell for rallying purposes.

The predominating feature of this call is the fact that one man yelling it can be heard above all the noise of Broadway at 42nd Street, if proponents of this yell may be believed, by proper use of this new yodel, call, scream, yell, squawk, or what have you, it is expected that G. W. fans at Penn State will rally, and make themselves heard, not only in the stands, but out in the field where the Ironmen will be battling.

The standings of the leagues including last Friday night's games are:

T. U. O.'s Swamp Theta Delta's

Unable to stop the rapid and accurate bombardment of the basket by the fast going T. U. O. team, Theta Delta Chi was swamped 53 to 11 in the only interfraternity game played Tuesday night. By this victory, its second consecutive one, Theta Upsilon Omega showed itself to be the class of League A and is now touted as one of the final game contenders.

Not content with running up point after point themselves, the winners guarded their basket as a precious stone, allowing the Theta Deltas to touch it from the field but three times, twice near the end of the game after substitutes had been sent in. The score at the end of the half was 31 to 4.

McGrew, T. U. O. center, continued his scoring rampage to again lead his team to victory with 19 points. "Bucky" Herzog, forward for the winners, was also "on," dropping them in from all angles and playing a fine floor game.

The game, which had been originally scheduled for last Thursday night, was set ahead to Tuesday by mutual assent of both teams.

Line-ups were:

T. U. O. (53) T. D. X. (11)

Young (8) . . . . . f. . . . . Kranauer

Herzog (12) . . . . . f. . . . . Sullivan

Acacia Upsets Kappa Sigma

Kappa Sigma was rudely awakened from a championship dream Thursday night by the down-trodden Acacia quintet when the former doormat of League B decided to rise and walk, doing so with 40 points against the 37 hard earned points of the Kappa Sigs. The game, which was not only the biggest upset thus far, was also one of the closest and most thrilling this season, the lead changing time after time during the entire playing period.

Led by Corbin, lanky Acacia center, the winners displayed an offensive that could in no manner be compared to that of their first two attempts. Shooting them from all sides and apparently unable to miss, Corbin scored 20 points. "Babe" Clapper, unable to start in the previous two games on account of injuries also added to the Acacia attack with his fast and elusive dribbling.

The Acacia tossers, however, were not able to carry off all the laurels of the game, the Kappa Sigs playing good ball and given a few more minutes of play, might have changed the verdict. Hoffman, forward, showed himself to be one of the best shots in the league when he dropped ten field goals and 3 free throws through the hoop.

Line-ups for the game were:

Acacia (40) Kappa Sigma (37)

Spangler . . . . . f. . . . . Hoffman (23)

Elsberry (5) . . . . . f. . . . . McGregor (2)

Corbin (20) . . . . . c. . . . . Mack

Substitutions: Acacia: LaFont (3) for Spangler, Blackman (1) for Clapper, Kappa Sigma: Robertson (3) for McGregor, Alwine (2) for Mack, Balwin for Morgan, Russell for Alwine.

Sig Chi Best T. D. X.

After holding Sigma Chi even for the first three quarters, Theta Delta Chi weakened in the final period and allowed the Sigs to hand them their third straight defeat, 35 to 20, in the first game Friday night. The Theta Deltas were practically eliminated from the race for championship honors by this defeat, while the Sig Chis retained their foothold, having only been beaten once.

With both teams playing poor but close ball, the third quarter

Chivalry of 1908 Hatchet Editor Discovered Through Ancient Document

Editor E. P. Gates, Also President of Hatchet Corporation, Agrees to Attend Professor Swisher's History Class, But Entirely in Vain

Through a musty, second-hand French book discovered only lately, it has been discovered that even twenty years ago editors of The Hatchet feared neither man nor professor, and were indeed very, very chivalrous.

It all happened back in 1908, when The Hatchet was a corporation, having a president, directors, stockholders, and all of that, in addition to the necessary evils of editors, sub-editors, senior and junior reporters, and business staff members of all kinds. True, some persons held several jobs, but then, that's nothing, new for Hatchet editors. And, its also not unusual that the editor, or president, if you wish to call him such, willingly added another activity to his many burdens.

Picture, if you will, a tense little group clustered about a rickety table—that same in use today, perhaps—in The Hatchet office. There is a beautiful girl, one Miss A. L. Ettinger. There are two witnesses of serious mien. And, with grim decision that naught on earth could shake, a young man, E. P. Gates, president of The Hatchet, sat and wrote.

gain twice, Carey kicked to the William and Mary 35-yard line. Baldacci immediately punted to the Colonials' 25-yard mark. Morrow lost 5 yards on an attempted end run, and Carey failed to gain.

Carey kicked from his own goal line to the 40-yard stripe. Bauserman went through for 5 yards and made it first down on the next play by going to the 30-yard line. After two line plays had failed and Baldacci's pass was broken up, Bauserman made it first down on the Colonial 11-yard line. Bauserman was thrown for a 1-yard loss by Allshouse before passing to Harris on the 5-yard mark. Baldacci failed to gain and William and Mary was penalized 5 yards for stalling. Baldacci's pass was broken up and G. W. was given the ball on its own 20-yard line.

Morrow failed to gain and Barrow made only 2 yards. Carey kicked and Ryan recovered a teammate's fumble on his own 35-yard line. Bauserman kicked to Morrow on the Hatchet 20-yard mark. After Barrow had made 5 yards, Carey kicked to Baldacci, who was downed in his tracks on the 45-yard line. Bauserman kicked to the Colonial 10-yard line, where one of his own players downed the ball. Barrow made 2 yards before Carey kicked to Baldacci on the G. W. 49-yard line. Bauserman's kick went over the goal line and Carey kicked to the 49-yard mark as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

William and Mary's ball on the G. W. 49-yard line. Van Meter broke through to throw Bloxem for a 2-yard loss. Bloxem passed to Ryan for 7 yards. Bauserman fumbled but Ryan recovered and Willis kicked to the Crummen's 1-yard mark. Carey immediately kicked to Bloxem, who was forced outside on the Colonial 22-yard mark.

Harris took Bloxem's pass for 8 yards. On another attempted pass, Bloxem was thrown for a 2-yard loss and again for a 5-yard deficit which gave G. W. the ball on its own 28-yard line. Carey kicked to Bloxem on the William and Mary 42-yard line. Bauserman made 4 yards and Darden went around right end for 3 more. Bauserman and Darden carried the oval to the 35-yard line but the Indians received a 5-yard penalty and Bauserman kicked over the goal line.

Given the ball on its own 20-yard mark, G. W. attempted to rush but were penalized 15 yards for holding. On the next play, Carey's punt was blocked by Bauserman and Lankford recovered the ball within 2 yards of the Colonial goal. In two plays, Bauserman went over for the initial score. Darden's kick missed crossing the goal posts. Score, 6-0.

Morrow took the kick-off to his own 35-yard line. Lopeman kicked to Bloxem, who ran the ball back to mid-field. Darden made 5 yards before William and Mary was penalized 15 yards for holding. Darden kicked to Morrow on the Colonial 25-yard mark. Lopeman's passes twice missed finding a receiver and the Colonials took a 5-yard penalty. Carey kicked to his own 45-yard line. After two plays failed to gain, Bauserman kicked over the goal line, but G. W. was penalized and the Indians given the ball on the Colonials' 40-yard mark. Ryan just missed catching Bloxem's pass, but Bloxem was nailed far behind the line by Allshouse, who made a pretty tackle.

Bloxem passed to Paxson, who was an ineligible receiver and the Indians surrendered the ball on the G. W. 38-yard line. Lopeman passed to Barrow for 7 yards and again for 2. Morrow missed Lopeman's pass and Carmichael intercepted, Carey's pass on the Hatchet 43-yard stripe. Bloxem tore through for 9 yards and Darden made it first down on the G. W. 27-yard line. Darden went through for 4 more before the half closed. Score, 6-0.

Third Quarter

The second half opened with plenty of hope for Colonial supporters. Taking the kick-off, Morrow ran back 30 yards to the visitors' 45-yard line before being stopped. Barrow went through for 4 yards and Morrow broke away for a 20-yard gain to place the oval on the Indians' 19-yard line. Barrow made 5 yards but two-line plays failed. It was here that Carmichael made his presence felt. Snaring Barrow's pass on his own 20-yard line, the husky captain evaded all would-be tacklers and dashing to the side of the field raced up the side-lines 80 yards to score another 6-pointer. Allshouse blocked the try for extra point. Score, 12-0.

G. W. kicked off and the ball was returned to the Indian 38-yard line. Morrow, receiving a punt on the first play was downed on his own 33-yard line. Berkowitz, who had taken Lopeman's place, went through twice for a five-yard gain. Gates kicked to the William and Mary 25-yard line. Bauserman kicked on the first play to the G. W. 40-yard line. Berkowitz made only a yard and Barrow was nailed before he started. Gates kicked to Bloxem on the latter's 23-yard line. Baldacci went through for 4 yards before Bauserman kicked to the G. W. 40-yard mark. Morrow went through for 5 yards and Barrow added 2 more. Bloxem intercepted Lopeman's pass, fumbled and recovered.

Baldacci was thrown for an 8-yard loss and Bauserman kicked to the G. W. 40-yard line. Lopeman passed to Barrow for only a yard gain but Morrow took Lopeman's heave to the 45-yard mark. Barrow failed to gain and Lopeman kicked to Bloxem, who was forced outside on the visitor's 12-yard line. They immediately punted and Morrow was downed on their 45-yard mark. G. W. was penalized and William and Mary given the ball on their own 20-yard line. A kick was partially blocked and Morrow received the ball on his 48-yard stripe. Another "break" favored the Indians when Paxson intercepted Lopeman's and ran 29 yards to the Colonial 19-yard line, as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

William and Mary's ball on the G. W. 20-yard line. Bauserman hit the center of the line for 7 yards and a line plunge netted 2 more. Bloxem went through for a first down on the 9-yard line and Baldacci added 4 more around right end. Bauserman was stopped on the next play, but crashed over for the score on his following attempt. Bloxem's pass for the extra point was grounded. Score, 18-0.

Clapper was downed on the 23-yard line after receiving the kick-off. Lopeman passed 12 yards to Morrow, who made it first down. Morrow failed to gain and G. W. took a 15-yard penalty. Lopeman's long pass was incomplete and he kicked out of bounds on the Indian 40-yard line. G. W. was penalized 5 yards. Baldacci went to the 49-yard line and Bauserman made it first down. On the second play, Morrow interfered with the receiver of a forward pass and G. W. was penalized 5 yards. Bloxem went over for another first down on the G. W. 35-yard line. Bauserman broke through to the G. W. 30-yard line. On this play, Murphy, of the visitors was banished from the game for slugging and the Indians penalized half the distance to the goal line. Carey was the one slugged and had to be carried from the field.

Two passes were incomplete and Van Meter blocked the kick, falling on the ball on the William and Mary 25-yard line. G. W. was penalized 15 yards. Lopeman passed to Morrow for 10 yards and to McGrew for 5 more. Clements, who had come in for Carey, kicked to Carmichael, who, when tackled by Van Meter, attempted to slug the Colonial tackle. Carmichael was ejected from the contest for this action. A William and Mary punt was downed on the 46-yard line. Lopeman passed to McGrew for 10 yards but his following heave was knocked down. Lopeman's third pass was incomplete and a 5-yard penalty resulted. Lopeman kicked outside on the William and Mary 15-yard line. On an end run, Baldacci made 15 yards before being forced outside. Ryan took Baldacci's long pass to the G. W. 28-yard line and a line plunge netted 5 yards. After two plays had failed to gain, Bloxem passed to Ryan who took the ball over the goal line for his team's last score of the day. Field missed the try for extra point, making the score 24-0.

The balance of the game produced an exchange of kicks with neither team able to get beyond their op-

Brothers Battle On Opposing Teams In Wm. and Mary Tilt

Family ties were strained somewhat last Saturday in the George Washington-William and Mary game. Opposing each other in the two lines were found Calvin Rogers of George Washington against his brother, Arthur Rogers, of William and Mary.

C. Rogers was at guard while Arthur played tackle.

It was not the first time that the two had played together, however, for they had played side by side on the Central High eleven in 1925. Arthur being chosen all-high guard for that year. Both brothers are in their second year at their respective schools and will probably be in the line-ups for a few more years.

vores" were not so good as they are poetical.

Debaters Congratulated

"The popular reading of psychology instills us to reason out phases of life," she declared. "The whole tenor of life is progress. We have changed in our morality but we have done it for the better. No doubt we have better morals than those of the people of yore."

The debaters, especially the Britishers, received many hearty congratulations after the debate. An elderly man, congratulating Marjorie Sharp, remarked, "You certainly are sharp."

MATHEMATICS CLUB MEETS

At the meeting of the Mathematics Club on October 29, Michael Goldberg explained the principles and use of the "Complex-Quantity Slide Rule." Like the ordinary slide-rule for real numbers, it can multiply, divide, and the powers and roots with complex quantities without the usual arithmetical labor.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Monday, November 14, at 8 p. m., in Corcoran Hall, Room 17. Dr. Paul Wernicke, of the U. S. Patent Office, will discuss "The Problem of Apollonius," an old problem for which many interesting solutions have been proposed.

COUNCIL REVISES COURT SCHEDULE

Basketball Games Rearranged To Avoid Conflicts With Sorority Games

CUPS GIVEN IN TWO SPORTS

Two Teams in Both Baseball and Tennis Win Awards As Seasons End

At the meeting of the Interfraternity Council held at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house, Sunday, the proposed amendment to the constitution, prohibiting the use of players who had won letters in another school from playing in that sport in the Council series, was defeated, and a revised schedule of games for the remainder of the season arranged.

In view of the fact that it was found impossible to determine the winners in the baseball and tennis competitions, it was decided to award two cups in each sport, designating them as winners of their respective leagues. In view of this a cup will be awarded to Sigma Chi and Theta Delta Chi as winners of their respective leagues in baseball, and to Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Alpha as winners of their respective leagues in tennis.

A revision in the schedule of the basketball tournament was necessary due to the fact that some of the dates conflict with the sorority series.

The following is the schedule for the remainder of the series:

Monday, November 5: Theta Delta Chi v. Sigma Chi and Kappa Alpha v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Wednesday, November 7: Kappa Alpha v. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Delta Chi v. Sigma Chi.

Monday, November 12: Acadia v. Kappa Alpha and Theta Upsilon Omega v. Sigma Nu.

Wednesday, November 14: Phi Sigma Kappa v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Phi Epsilon v. Acadia.

Monday, November 19: Phi Sigma Kappa v. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Alpha Epsilon v. Kappa Sigma.

Wednesday, November 21: Delta Tau Delta v. Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha v. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Friday, November 23: Phi Sigma Kappa v. Kappa Sigma and Sigma Chi v. Delta Tau Delta.

Saturday, November 24: Final game between winners of League A and B.

All games listed first in the schedule will be played promptly at 8:30 p.m. in the University Gym, followed immediately by the second game. An admission of ten cents, used to defray expenses, will be charged.

INTERFRAT COURT TOURNAMENT STILL OPEN

ended in a 17-17 tie. The fourth quarter, however, was a different story. Either the Theta Deltas weakened or the Sig Chis got "hot," take whichever you choose, but nevertheless the winners more than doubled their score while the losers were only able to count three times.

Randall, Sig Chi forward, proved to be the big man of his team as well as of the game, getting into nearly every play and dropping through seven pretty baskets. Brumbaugh, running guard for the Theta Deltas, was the best for the losers.

The line-ups were:

Sigma Chi (35) T. D. X. (20) ... Sickler (8) ... Iverson (6) ... Randall (14) ... Bartlett (5) ... Snow (7) ... Smith (11) ... Beekman ... Brumbaugh (6) ... Krebs (4) ... Page

Substitutions: Sigma Chi—Smith (2) for Sickler. Brant for Smith. Theta Delta Chi—Mitchell (2) for Page.

S. A. E. Remains Unbeaten

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, present champions, were given a bad scare in its second game, but opened up in the last quarter to nose out Sigma Phi Epsilon in the nightcap Friday night, 24 to 9. The score at the half was seven to four, Sig Alpha. Shortly after the start of the second half, the score stood eight to eight, but the Sig Alphas took the lead within a few moments, steadily increasing it until the final whistle blew.

A tight defense and delayed offensive appeared to be the object of both teams, resulting in a rather slow but hard-fought game. The return of "Sticks" Lindsay, lanky S. A. E. center and star of last year, to the line-up in the second half, increased the winner's offensive power considerably and enabled them to run up their needed points in the final period. Knapp, high scorer for the winners in their first start, was effectively held down by the Sig Epsilon guards, getting but two field goals.

The losers were able to get but infrequently shots from the field. Davis sinking two and Kerlin one for the team's field scoring total. The entire team, however, played great defensive ball, forcing most of the Sig Alpha shots.

The line-ups were:

S. A. E. (24) S. P. E. (9) ... Knapp (5) ... Leffler (11) ... Thompson (5) ... Billisly (11) ... Blaine (4) ... Kerlin (2) ... Rigby (2) ... Davis (5) ... Whyte (4) ... Boyd

Substitutions: Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Lindsay (4) for Thompson. Sigma Phi Epsilon—Chambers for Kerlin, Roberts for Chambers.

Ball, Famed Birdologist Of George Washington, Bags First Golden Plover Here

A Golden Plover, the first bird of its kind ever secured in Washington, was presented to the National Museum last week by William Howard Ball, G. W. U. birdologist. Birds of this species have been observed here before by Ball, when during the course of their long migratory flight from Labrador to the West Indies, the birds were enticed to rest in Washington, due to the recent unusually damp weather. This occurrence was so unusual that the Smithsonian Institute doubted Ball's discovery, saying that they "must be shown." Nothing daunted, the bird observer obtained an old shot-gun, and became a bird hunter. He finally "bagged his bird" last week in the mud-flats opposite Haine's Point, and carried it triumphantly to the Smithsonian Institute, where the Golden Plover was mounted and placed in the museum. And Ball had his reward.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB TO REORGANIZE SOON

C. Walter Young, Lecturer In International Relations, Selected As Advisor

The International Relations Club will hold a reorganization meeting at 12:15 in Corcoran Hall on Thursday, November 8. Mr. C. Walter Young, lecturer in International Relations, and the Far East, has been selected as faculty advisor for the current year. Student officers will be elected.

All students with special interest in international affairs, who are at present in the employ of the Government, or who are contemplating a career in foreign trade or government foreign service will find in the International Relations Club an opportunity to keep in touch with international affairs.

Mr. Young has resided for several seasons in China and Japan and not only speaks, but also writes, the Chinese language. A graduate from Northwestern University, he has studied at the University of Minnesota and Leyden University, Holland, and has lectured at the Japanese Government School of Yokohama and Harvard University.

With the formation of the new School of Government at George Washington many students have elected to follow the Foreign Service Course.

A special International Relations Club Alcove has been established at the University and books are being constantly received by the Club from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace which is sponsoring over 100 similar clubs throughout the country.

Prominent High School Graduates Choose G. W.

Dietz, Smoot, Tarshes, and Griggs, Popular High School Students Enrolled at G. W.

Last year's most prominent graduates from four out of the five public high schools in Washington are enrolled at George Washington this year.

The most prominent graduates as chosen by the faculties of the various schools were: James Dietz from Eastern, Nevitt Smoot from Western, Joseph Tarshes from Business, David Griggs from McKinley, and James Bates from Central. All these except the last named are at George Washington now.

These five boys were chosen by the faculties of the high schools, particularly by the principal and the teachers in charge of senior sections, to represent their schools at an annual luncheon of the Rotary Club held at the Willard Hotel, June the twentieth. The principals of all the high schools, and members of the school board were present at the luncheon. Both they and the five graduates gave speeches.

The graduates were chosen for excellence in scholarship combined with prominence in extracurricular activities, and it is interesting to note that each of the five boys was the captain of a company in the High School Cadets.

CLASS RING AGENCY AGAIN GOES TO QUIGLEY'S STORE

Senior class rings can be obtained, this year, by placing orders with any clerk at Quigley's Drug Store. A deposit of $5 will insure delivery within four weeks. Samples will be on display at Quigley's in November or December.

Auda Inc. of Columbus, Ohio are the manufacturers, and as last year, have appointed Quigley's as the place from which the rings will be distributed.

Persons desiring rings with seals of previous years may obtain them with an extra deposit of $2.

Rings may be had in a variety of stones, and at prices ranging from $10.50 to $24.50.

DONALD KLINE IS WINNER IN ART POSTER CONTEST

Donald Kline, instructor and at present a post-graduate student in design at this university, was the winner this year of the prize of a hundred dollars offered for a poster to be used as the cover design for the Beaux-Arts program. This competition is held annually in New York and is open to all students. Each year a different period is represented in the posters. This year it was Napoleon the First. Kline's poster was of the head of a man and a horse and was exceptionally well done.

AIR MAIL BRINGS GHOST TO CAMPUS

Political Number of Comic On Sale At Saturday's Game

COVER BY ROWLAND LYON

Local Political Situation Lampooned Along with National Campaign Issues

Coming literally out of a clear sky, the first number of the 1928-29 Ghost arrived from Baltimore by air mail in time to appear at the George Washington-William and Mary game Saturday.

With a corps of freshman salesmen, the issue, vividly advertised by Rowland Lyon's colorful cover, was gobbled up by Colonial and Indian fans alike. The cover, lampooning the political symbols of both parties, gave a clue to the contents of the magazine.

Both local and national politics came in for their share of satirical comment, which together with jokes and cartoons made up the first Ghost to appear under its new policy of presenting a college comic with new ideas.

Campus Politics Hit
Articles in the issue ranged from "Impressions of the Candidates," a satirical resume of the lives of Hoover and Smith, to "Campus Politics," barbed thrusts at political machinations around George Washington. "Tidbits of Information for Politically Uninformed Freshmen" and "An Interview with Senator Noah of Arkansas" were other illustrated features along the same line.

The long editorial of The Ghost was an appeal to its readers to accept the material contained in the magazine as it was written; namely, in a spirit of good fun.

To satisfy the demands of those who wish to receive their Ghost monthly by mail, a subscription campaign will soon be launched whereby the seven remaining issues of The Ghost may be had for $1.50. Subscribers to The Ghost will receive their copies on the day before the general distribution on the campus.

CIVIL ENGINEER MEETING SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

The Civil Engineering Society will hold their regular meeting Friday, November 9th, 8:15 p.m., in C. H. 29. The principal speaker of the evening will be Mr. George E. Clark, Chief Engineer in charge of Surveying and Drafting, U. S. Engineers. Mr. Clark, who is a member of the A. S. C. E., will speak on U. S. Government engineering practices. Other features of the meeting will include moving pictures of engineering interest.

Rowland Lyon of G. W. Fame Now Breaks Into National Glory—Cartoons In "Judge"

Not satisfied with scholastic fields, Rowland Lyon, a student at George Washington and a member of the art staff of the Ghost, has struck out in the national and has already succeeded in having two cartoons published by the weekly comic magazine, "Judge."

Although he has tried comparatively few times, Mr. Lyon has been entirely successful, even financially, having received $15 for his latest sketch. The later cartoon appeared in the issue for October 27, and occupied a position on the collegate page. To gain this place is alone considered an achievement because of the keen competition among collegate artists. Mr. Lyon has submitted several other original drawings.

This last summer Mr. Lyon was in the art colony at Provincetown, Massachusetts, and it was there that this cartoon and many others were executed.

Women's Glee Club Rehearsals Weekly

Pins Awarded for Faithful Attendance on Mondays and Saturdays

Rehearsals for the Women's Glee Club are being held regularly Mondays and Saturdays, at 12:00, in Corcoran Hall 1. Mr. Robert Harmon, director, has an intensive training course in operation, and is making every effort to have a perfect club when the concert season opens in December.

Pins are awarded those members who are most faithful in attendance during the year. These rewards are in the shape of a lyre, the first year pin of gold, the second of gold and pearls, and the third a guard, G. W. is added. A total of more than two absences without excuse automatically renders a member ineligible for a pin.

Mary Kwin, president last year, has returned to active membership.

"Making a blindfold test is like conducting a movie tryout. But in this competition I found my star 'right off the reel.' I named OLD GOLD for the lead part the moment I tasted its thrilling flavor and its soothing gentleness to the tongue and throat."

Dick Barthelmess

MR. BARTHELMESS was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, choosing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

Why you can pick them

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant... coarse top-leaves, irritating to the throat... withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma... and the heart-leaves, rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the heart-leaves are used in OLD GOLDS.

CHERRY TREE BOARD MEETING SCHEDULED

Cooperation of All Students and Organizations on Campus Asked by Staff

The 1919 Cherry Tree Board will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Cherry Tree Office in Stockton Hall. All board members are earnestly requested to be present on time so that the business may be disposed of in a short time.

The Board asks the cooperation of all the organized groups on the campus in encouraging students to have their photographs made in November. Pictures may be made at Edmonston's Studio at 1333 F Street N. W. until December 15, at $2.00 a sitting. After that date, the sittings will cost $2.50 until January 15th, which is the last day that sittings will be made for the 1929 Annual.

A meeting of the Features Staff under the direction of Margaret Loeffler, Managing Editor, and Babe Whyte was held last Thursday night to lay out and plan the details of that section. Other members of the staff include Edith Norris, Janet Sheppard, J. Preston Crews and Bill Lichlider.

The Art Work for the new year-book is being handled by the Architectural Students under the direction of Professor Kline. All assignments have been given out and if the seniors and clubs respond favorably to the efforts of the staff in obtaining material for the book, the Cherry Tree Board promises an early delivery of the 1929 Cherry Tree.

Regular Meeting Held By Schoenfeld Verein

Samuel Schaefer Elected New President To Fill Vacancy In Office

At the meeting of Der Schoenfeld Verein held in the Chi Omega rooms on October 25, Samuel Schaefer was elected president for the coming year to fill the vacancy left by Gretchen Rogers, last year's president, who resigned on her return to her home in Germany in the summer.

An announcement of interest to the followers of this organization is that Der Schoenfeld Verein is now a member of the Interscholastic Federation of German Clubs, a national organization of all collegiate German Clubs, from which it is anticipated much benefit will be derived through the exchange of bulletins with similar groups.

When the usual business had been disposed of, a delightful burlesque of "The Glove," one of Schiller's poems, was given in pantomime by several of the members, with Professor Gropp as reader.

The last Friday of each month has been chosen for the regular meetings, but due to the Thanksgiving recess, it was decided to set forward the date of the next meeting to November 23. The place and time have not been designated as yet, but plans are going forward to make this next get-together even more delightful than those preceding.

ORIENTAL ART COURSE OFFERED BY BRIGHAM

A course in Oriental Art is being given by Dr. Gertrude Brigham, in Miss Critcher's studio, 1603 Connecticut Ave., on Wednesdays at 4.30. The first lecture, "A Hour of the East," was given Wednesday, October 31, before a large audience. It was illustrated by an exhibition of scenes from Egypt, the Holy Land, Persia, India, China and Japan, of Oriental materials and fabrics, and portraits of Chinese nobles.

Among those present were the new Attache of the Greek Legation, Mr. Wallace Wright, Mrs. Isaac Gans, Mrs. Florence J. Stoddard, and Miss Grace Rogers. Jasmine tea was served by the Misses Molly Brinkley, Eleanor Folsom, and Elaine Stevens of Miss Brigham's class in Oriental Art in George Washington.

Next week's lecture will be entitled "Egypt, the Land of Mystery," illustrated by personally gathered material. The public is invited.

HARVARD RECEIVES OVER MILLION FROM FOOTBALL

(Continued from page 4.) Highton. It might almost be called our national religion. Dean Willard Sperry, of the Harvard Theological School, said that the only true religious spirit to be discerned among large bodies of undergraduates to-day, is in the football stadium. So fundamental is the craving of man for ritual in one form or another, one college president said, that when churches do away with ritual it springs up in other and most unlikely places. Ritual has so pervaded football that it is fixed and standardized from Maine to California.

Officials Many "There are almost as many football officials as players upon the field, and they are handpicked for each game by a High Commissioner who receives a salary of ten thousand dollars for the job; a job which does not appear to be working out overly well. Last season more than three thousand dollars was spent for spies to watch the officials and report upon their fairness and the quality of their officiating. This fall there is talk of spies being set to watch the spies at an additional cost of three thousand dollars.

"Colleges are waking up to realize that what they have on their hands is a first-class octopus which is strangling many of the legitimate pursuits of the educational institution. In most American colleges there are two factions, football and anti-football. The football faction is well organized, powerful, articulate, embracing most of the students, the athletic directors, their staffs, many of the influential graduates and members of the board of trustees, and occasionally even the president himself. There is no denying the fact that a winning football eleven is a great help to the president of every college. After winning everybody is in such a good humor that things run smoothly and quietly among students and professors.

"The anti-football faction is smaller, less powerful, vastly less noisy but nevertheless growing rapidly. Some of them would like to do away with football entirely. Although it has been powerless to act effectively so far, one president told me that many thinking graduates, undergraduates, members of the faculty, and college presidents would be happy if football could be abolished without upsetting the athletic systems of the colleges generally."

COLUMBIA

Vilma Banky and Ronald Coleman are seen for the second week at Loew's Columbia in their latest co-starring picture "Two Lovers," adapted from the story "Leatherface" by Baroness Orczy.

Miss Banky plays the part of Lenora, the flower of Spain, niece of the Duke of Azar, oppressor of the Flemish and commandant of the Spanish. Her royal kinsman weds her to Mark, played by Ronald Coleman, in a gorgeous ceremony, rich in the medieval ceremony of Flanders, as a bride of state.

Loathing him as her enemy and forced mate, she gradually comes to respect him. Just when she begins to love him, however, Lenora makes a discovery about Mark that causes her to hate him.

How she betrays and delivers him into the hands of the Spaniards, and then, discovering her mistake, joins the heroic efforts of Mark and his countrymen in their final battle through the swamps for freedom, ending in the assault on the impregnable Kasteel, are among the high spots of the picture.

Added attractions include the M-G-M News, the Fox Movietone News, a Metro-Movietone presentation: Walt Roesner, "the aristocrat of jazz," and his Capitolians, a Metro-Movietone act by the Locust Sisters, singing sentimental songs, and a thematic prelude, "Lenora," by the Columbia Orchestra under Claude Burrows.

EARLE

"The Terror," the Warner Bros. Vitaphone special and all-talking picture which is this week's attraction at the Earle Theater, is based on a play which has been keeping London agog for over three years.

It is a crook picture, but all from the English point of view. The locale is an ancient manor house, inhabited by an ancient doctor and his young daughter, and advertised as a rest cure. Rumor has it that somewhere in the cavernous heights or depths of the mansion a king's ransom of stolen gold is secreted, and even that the purloiner of the spoils is himself hidden thereabouts.

It is this rumor which calls more guests to Dr. Redmayne's cure than the quest of health. Among them is a hysterical spiritualistic widow, who holds seances; a spectacled, wide-mouthed gentleman; an aged couple, detectives, cops and lastly a weird, cloaked, cowed creature whose pleasure it is to whisk unsuspecting victims up flues or down trap-doors, or through subterranean passages to his special torture chamber.

Many curious and interesting camera stunts have been utilized in bringing about uncanny effects, and it is said that Director Del Ruth has been alert for every clue of humor, suspense or terror in carrying out the spirit of the story.

May McAvoy is cast as the daughter of the ancient doctor, who is played by Alec Francis. Louise Fazenda appears as the widow with spiritualistic yearnings, and Ed Horton is seen as the tipping detective.

FOX

A carnival of pep and joy, both on the screen and stage, constitute the program of the Fox Theater for the current week.

A William Fox comedy, "Dry Martini," with a cast headed by Mary Astor, Matt Moore and Albert Grant, is the film attraction. The story concerns a demure and pretty American girl who pays a visit to her father in Paris, where he has lived for several years, and she shows "papa" his Paris as he has never seen it before.

Labeled a "Carnival of Jazz," the stage show again features the original 16 Tiller Girls, held for a second week and offering an entire new set of dance routines.

Featured also is N. E. Wong, a Chinese singing artist, and others include Maxine and Lee, two neezy dancers; Ormonde Sliners; Smith and Hadley, acrobatic dancers; and Mamie Rollins, a singer of "blue" songs.

Leon Brusthoff has made a special arrangement for the overture of the melodies identified with our greater Presidents, which promises to be a novelty. Fox Movietone News offers world events, while Lawrence Downey continues to act as the invisible master of ceremonies.

KEITH'S

Virginia Valli in the role of a struggling actress in Columbia's production, "The Street of Illusion" is the screen feature at B. F. Keith's Theater this week.

Kenneth Thomson plays opposite the star and in the supporting cast are Dan Keith and Harry Myers. Direction was by Erle C. Kenton.

The Joy Boys, Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson, with their playmates, furnish the stage bill in an offering called "Merry Mad Minutes of Monkey Business." These minutes are reminiscent of the Ziegfeld "Follies."

Olsen and Johnson, kings of travesty, have just finished a successful engagement in far-off Australia. They have brought home with them some of Australia's clever players. Their travesty is a series of comedy bits and scenes reminiscent of Ziegfeld "Follies," "Charlot's Revue," etc.

A comedy picture and supplementary screen feature will complete the bill.

METROPOLITAN

First National's "Companionate Marriage," which is the major screen offering at the Metropolitan Theater this week, is an attempt to set Judge Ben B. Lindsey's theory of marriage before the public in true light through a dramatic and entertaining film story.

The film is said to be entertainment of a high order, offering a straight-forward explanation of what "companionate marriage" is. Judge Lindsey not only adapted the story in collaboration with Wainwright Evans, from incidents in his book, "The Companionate Marriage," but he was on the set, supervising, during the filming of the picture.

The cast includes Betty Bronson, Richard Walling, Sarah Padden, June Nash, Hedda Hopper, Arthur Rankin and Edward Martindell.

Added attractions include three Vitaphone short-reel subjects, Jess Stafford and his orchestra, Redmond and Wells in a Vitaphone playlet, "The Gyp and Solomon's Children," and a two-reel Vitaphone comedy, featuring Hugh Herbert, portrayer of Jewish roles.

PALACE

A tenth anniversary program is being presented at Loew's Palace this week under the personal supervision of Colby Harriman, managing director. On the screen Lillian Gish is seen in her latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer sound picture, "Wind." Lars Hanson has the leading male role and Montague Love has an important part.

The story is one of elemental emotions in a primitive land, a land where the cyclone and the dreaded storms continually lash and sear the souls of those within it, where primitive passions rule and only the life survive. Into this land is thrust a delicately reared Southern girl—and gradually, under the lash of the elements, becomes more and more like the rest. And then comes love. It comes on the wings of a tornado while she is facing the gravest problem a woman can face.

On the stage Wesley Eddy and his Palace Syncopators are presented in a cruise round the world, "Step On It," produced by Frank Cambria. In the cast are Paul Mall, black-face comedian; Burnoff and Josephine, Spanish adagio team; Bud and Jack Pearson, comedy dance team; Helen Wright, soprano, and the Felicia Sorel Girls.

The added attractions include the M-G-M News, the Fox Movietone News, several novelties arranged by Colby Harriman and the Palace Orchestra, under Harry Borjes.

RIALTO

"Man, Woman and Wife," which is the screen feature at the Rialto this week, is a dramatic picture, which is said to treat the eternal triangle from a new angle. Norman Kerry, Pauline Starke and Marion are featured in the leading roles.

The story concerns Ralph Brandon, a young social lion, who, through fear and cowardice in a crucial moment, becomes a drifter in New York's Tenderloin district. His wife and former friends believe that he was killed in a thrilling catastrophe. While trying to keep his identity from the world in order to save his wife from humiliation, he is recognized by a woman who at one time had been in love with him, but who has since become notorious in the Tenderloin.

They are both happy in their lives together, but Brandon still loves his wife and wages a bitter battle with himself to overcome his craven instincts in a tragic situation.

The picture has a complete movie-tone accompaniment.

Johnny Slaughter and his Rialto Revelers furnish a snappy stage presentation of music and specialties. Other features include Vitaphone novelties and International Newsreel.

C. A. BARBOUR AT BROWN

Dr. Clarence A. Barbour of the Rochester Theological Seminary, who preached the baccalaureate sermon at the June Commencement has been elected president of Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island. He will take office next fall.

County Fair To Be Held In Gymnasium Nov. 16

Plans Completed for Annual "Y" Fair; Booths Selected by Sororities

Final plans have been made for the Annual County Fair, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., which will be held Friday evening, November 16, in the University Gymnasium.

Booths have been selected by all the sororities. Additions to the list announced last week include a "Fish Pond," by Kappa Delta and Fortune Tellers from Sigma Kappa. Zeta Tau Alpha will sell Dixies and Eskimo Pies; Phi Delta will have ice cream cones, and Phi Sigma will serve orangeade and cookies.

Members of the faculty have been invited to attend as guests of the Y. A colored orchestra has been secured for dancing and feature dances have also been planned.

Dr. Bartsch Discovers a Strange Kind of Lizard

Deiroptyx Bartschi Name of Lizard Among Large Collection Captured in Cuba

Dr. Paul Bartsch, Professor of Zoology, discovered a new species of lizard, one specimen of nearly a hundred reptiles and amphibians collected in Cuba, while he was traveling this summer under the Walter Rathbone Bacon Scholarship Fund.

This lizard, Deiroptyx bartschi, the second known species of the genus Deiroptyx, lives on rocks at the mouths of limestone caves.

The type of the specimen collected by Dr. Bartsch is an adult male from Banos San Vicente, Pinar del Rio Province, Cuba, found on June 25, 1928. The head is rather large, somewhat less than twice as long as broad, with a distinctively concave forehead. The top of the head is covered with flat, medium-sized scales which give place to very small ones just behind the nostrils; the dorsal scales are almost granular, with the two middorsal rows largest. The body is not elongate; the limbs are well developed, the hind legs being very long; the tail is round and very long, measuring 175 millimeters. The total length of the lizard is about 250 millimeters.

The specimen, as preserved in alcohol, has a head and body of sage green, becoming olive green on the sides and tall; the sides are marked with wavy sulphur yellow bars edged with dark; almost fading out on the middle of the back; they continue on the top of the tail as pea green cross-bands. In front of the ear is a large, squarish indigo blue spot, and a suffusion of this same color in front of the shoulder. In life this spot is iridescent. The limbs are light olive, the forearm slightly banded with yellow. The ventral surface is straw yellow.

There are nine paratypes from Banos San Vincents, and seventeen other specimens were collected in other parts of Cuba, in 1914 and 1916, by Dr. Bartsch and J. B. Henderson.
